

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy discloses the privacy practices for Biz-VoIP, Inc. If you choose to use our Service, then you agree to the collection and use of information in relation to this policy. The Personal Information that we collect is used solely for providing and improving the Service.

This privacy policy applies to information collected by Biz-VoIP. It covers the following:

- What personally identifiable information is collected from you, how it is used, and with whom it may be shared.
- What choices are available to you regarding the use of your data.
- Security procedures that are in place to protect against the misuse of your information.
- How you can correct any inaccuracies in the information.

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing

We are the sole owners of the information we collect. We only have access to/collect information that you voluntarily give us via email, our website, or other direct contact from you.

We do not give, sell, or rent this information to other parties except as required to provide our services to you and as required by law.

It is the policy of Biz-VoIP, Inc. that shareholders, officers, employees and agents of Biz-VoIP, Inc. may not disclose, divulge, or make accessible confidential information belonging to, or obtained through their affiliation with employees, customers, and clients and/or their client servicing groups to any person, including relatives, friends, and business and professional associates, other than to persons who have a legitimate need for such information and to whom Biz-VoIP, Inc. has authorized disclosure.

Shareholders, officers, employees, and agents shall use confidential information solely for the purpose of performing services as a trustee, agent or employee of Biz-VoIP, Inc. This policy is not intended to prevent disclosure where disclosure is required by law. No employee shall use electronic media, or verbal or written communication to divulge personal, confidential information.

Shareholders, officers, employees, and agents must exercise good judgment and care at all times to avoid unauthorized or improper disclosures of confidential information. Conversations in public places, such as restaurants, elevators, and public transportation, should be limited to matters that do not pertain to information of a sensitive or confidential nature. In addition, shareholders, officers, employees, and agents should be sensitive to the risk of inadvertent disclosure and should for example, refrain from leaving confidential information on desks or otherwise in plain view, and refrain from the use of speaker phones to discuss confidential information if the conversation could be heard by unauthorized persons.

At the end of employment or upon the termination of an employee's, agent's or contractor's relationship with Biz-VoIP, Inc., he or she shall return all documents, papers, and other materials, regardless of medium, which may contain or be derived from confidential information, in his or her possession.

Log Data

Whenever you visit our website, we may collect information that your browser sends to us that is called Log Data. This Log Data may include information such as your computer's Internet Protocol (“IP”) address, browser version, pages of our Service that you visit, the time and date of your visit, the time spent on those pages, and other statistics.

Cookies

Cookies are files with a small amount of data that are commonly used as an anonymous unique identifier. These are sent to your browser from websites you visit and are stored on your computer's hard drive.

Our website uses “cookies” to collection information and to improve our Service. You have the option to either accept or refuse these cookies, and know when a cookie is being sent to your computer. If you choose to refuse our cookies, you may not be able to use some features of our Service.

Your Access To and Control Over Information

You may opt out of any future contacts from us at any time. You can do the following at any time by contacting us via the email address or phone number given on our website:

- See what data we have about you, if any.
- Change/correct any data we have about you.
- Have us delete any data we have about you.
- Express any concern you have about our use of your data.

Security

Because we value your trust in providing us with your Personal Information, we take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the website, your information is protected both online and offline.

Wherever we collect sensitive information (such as credit card data), that information is encrypted and transmitted to us in a secure way. You can verify this by looking for a closed lock icon on the address bar of your web browser or looking for “https” at the beginning of the address of the web page.

While we use encryption to protect sensitive information transmitted online, we also protect your information offline. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, billing or customer service) are granted access to personally identifiable information. The computers/servers on which we store personally identifiable information are kept in a secure environment.
